The Australian SAS Jubilee (Oil on Canvas) The SAS Association commissioned me to paint this image to commemorate the 50th birthday of the Australian SAS. The five central figures represent the different periods in the SAS Regiment's history, (1st -Company Days & Borneo, 2nd - Vietnam, 3rd - The Training Years & CT, 4th - Peacekeeping & Timor, 5th - Middle East). These figures stand together as a wall protecting Australia which is coloured to represent the hard won sandy beret. The blue ocean, behind the Southern Cross, represents the Australian flag, and behind the winged dagger represents the SASR banner. Finally, the sea of historical images pays homage to the versatility and sacrifice of the SAS soldier. Press here to read "SAS ballad".
